Hello.

My name is Josh Brill and I am writing this email to voice my concern regarding the equality of drug testing in the work place. I am a Paruretic which means I cannot urinate in public situations. This would absolutely apply to a watched or supervised urine drug test. I am not opposed to drug testing in the workplace, but I believe that there must be alternative options to the standard urine test. I am aware that there are various other effective options for the same test such as hair and saliva analysis. With out these other options, I would consider the urine test to be discriminatory towards myself and others with this condition. It would disturb me greatly to know of a lost or missed opportunity for a job due to ignorance or insensitivity to this condition.

Thank you very much for your time.

Sincerely

Josh Brill
